WORK ALMOST COMPLETED AT LAST SESSION

Chinese Treaty, Report on Railways and 21 Demands Yet Remain

RUSH TO FINISH

Ten Pacts, Agreements and Resolutions Are Formally Approved at Plenary Session

Washington, Feb. 2.—The Conference on the Limitation of Armament is now ready for history.

Virtually all of its work was completed yesterday in the fifth plenary session, which lasted from 11 until nearly 3 o'clock and was featured by a businesslike purpose to get through and an almost total absence of thrills.

There is left the framing of the Chinese treaty that will embody the agreements reached as to China, the report upon the Chinese Eastern Railway, the debate on the 21 demands and another detail or two, action on all of which is but a matter of hours.

The delegates figuratively hurled themselves on this work immediately after the plenary session. Chairman Hughes called meetings of the subcommittee on the railroad and of the Far Eastern Committee in the same breath in which he adjourned the open session.

This driving impulse to be done with everything led Mr. Hughes to depart from his purpose to lay before the Conference only the naval treaty and the submarine and poison gas resolution embodied in a separate treaty. In addition he submitted the Shantung agreement and a large number of Chinese resolutions adopted by the Far Eastern Committee.

Hurrying to the end, too, and perhaps, having an eye on a ten-strike for the British upon public opinion, Mr. Balfour arose in the open session following the Shantung announcement and stated the British will return the Wei-Hei-Wei lease to China. It ought to have thrilled, but it did not. The lease is not very important and the British action was expected sooner or later.

Also seeing the end in sight M. Albert Sarraut, of the French delegation, took advantage of the submission of the naval treaty and of France's assent to it, to deliver a lengthy speech in defense of French against charges of imperialism, especially the charges from the American press. That also ought to have thrilled but it did not M. Sarraut had the misfortune of the Briand and Viviani speeches having been given as samples of French eloquence and he was not equal to the standard.

The one real thrill, unless the realization that Shantung was at last a settled issue gave a thrill when Baron Shidehara and Minister Sze spoke, came from Secretary Hughes. He was on his feet most of the time, rattling along as rapidly and as unemotionally as a tailor giving measurements. But he got out of that mood when he concluded his discussion of the naval treaty, in which he has had a deeper more feverent personal interest than in anything else.

"This treaty absolutely ends the race in naval competition," declared Mr. Hughes in a stirring voice that brought quick, emphatic applause. "It is the greatest forward step to establish the reign of peace."

The agreements submitted to the Conference in the plenary session and given the assent of the powers follow:

Naval treaty, including Pacific fortifications agreement.

Treaty embodying the Root submarine and poison gas resolutions.

Shautung agreement reached between the Chinese and Japanese delegates. (This did not require assent.)

Agreement to abolish foreign postoffice in China by January 1, 1923.

Agreement for international commission to study situation as to foreign troops in China and make recommendations looking to removal.

Resolution guaranteeing the open door in China with supplemental agreement of powers not to support their nationals in violations of the open door.

Resolutions against discrimination on railroads in China, with recommendation that Chinese roads be unified under Government control.

Resolution advising China to disband the troops now under arms and controlled either by the Government or by provincial leaders, thus to reduce disbursements.

Agreement that all treaties, conventions, exchanges of notes, international understandings, concessions, etc., affecting China be filed with the Secretary-General, new ones to be made public within 60 days after consummation.

Agreement to restore China's rights in radio stations on her soil, with supplementary statement disavowing judgment as to facts in case of each station and insisting upon a plan of open-door policy in this field.

The customs resolution, under which China will be given a 5 per cent. effective customs rate, instead of the present effective 3 1-2 per cent. rate, and a commission will be named to study the question of allowing further increase, was mentioned by Secretary Hughes, but was not submitted from the Far Eastern Committee because the convention has not been entirely framed.

WASHINGTON
DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Feb. 2.—As if to celebrate the settlement of the Shantung question, the "Shantung baby" has arrived in Washington. Congratulations are being showered upon Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese Minister to Great Britain, and chief of the Chinese delegation to the arms conference, and Mrs. Koo upon the birth of a son on Monday last at the Moran House where the Chinese Mission is established.

It has been suggested that the baby be called Hughes Balfour Koo in honor of the three men who have perhaps done the most in bringing about a settlement of this most troublesome question between China and Japan, and announced by Chairman Hughes at the open session of the conference yesterday. The news of the birth of the Koo baby in Washington came as a surprise to almost everyone for Mme. Koo had taken passage for England several weeks ago. However, it appears that she canceled her sailing at the last moment.

Amateur radio operators will have the entire air to themselves within a few days as soon as regulations to govern the broadcasting of message and music can be formulated by the government, it is announced.

The order prohibiting the use of the 200 meter wave length by amateurs will be withdrawn as soon as the new regulations are ready, according to D. B. Carson, Commissioner of the Bureau of Navigation. Carson says that two plans are under consideration.

One is to allow the amateurs who broadcast certain hours each day, the other hours to be used for radio telegraphy, "he pointed out. "The other plan is to place all broadcasting, such as music, on a wave length of 175 meters, and give the amateurs who desire to use the air for telegraphy the 200 meter wave at all times. Our decision will be governed to a great extent by the report from the Amateur Relay League."

The government will reach a decision within a few days upon the request of Charles W. Morse, New York shipbuilder asking that he be allowed to go to Europe to consult a specialist about his physical condition, if he is not needed immediately before the federal grand jury. The Morse case has been laid aside temporarily to allow uninterrupted consideration of evidence that may be offered on the Knickerbocker Theatre crash. In the meantime Morse is being held in this country awaiting further action by the grand jury in his case. There has never been any very strong belief in Washington that Morse would ever be brought to trial for his alleged conspiracy to defraud the U. S. Shipping Board.

Attorney General Daugherty is in a deep quandary over the ethics of the judiciary. He has received from the federal district Judge of Louisiana a subpoena duces tecum. Reduced to American lingo this means that Daugherty, who appoints all the District Attorneys and recommends all the Federal Judges, has been commanded to appear before the court in person, with certain documents which the judge wants to inspect.

This particular federal judge is curious to know the circumstances that surrounded the appointment of Federal District Attorney Fisher in the latter part of 1921. And he wants the Attorney General to tell him all about the circumstances.

The Shipping Board has informed the President that it is ready to take care of trade between American ports and the Philippine Islands whenever the President, acting under authority given him by the Jones Shipping act, issues a proclamation placing those islands under the coastwise shipping law. The Board told the President, also, that it will be able to take care of trade with the Virgin Islands, coming under the same laws within ninety days. In the meantime a delegation of Filipinos is on its way to Washington to protest against the inclusion of the Philippines on the ground that the driving away of vessels of other nations will serve to increase rates between America and the Islands.

Snow is Softening

The work of removing the snow continues. The sun continues to aid the workers in their task and the rain last night also considerably softened the snow. A goodly part of King street is now free of snow and travel is again about normal, although on the outskirts of the city the walking just now is very bad and probably will continue so till all of the snow has passed off.

KIWANIS LUNCHEON

A. D. Brockett Delivers Address at Meeting This Afternoon

The Kiwanis Club this afternoon held its weekly luncheon in the Westminster building and it was largely attended. An address was delivered by A. D. Brockett. The meeting was presided over by Urban S. Labert and boost prizes were distributed by Garnett L. Boothe. The program was prepared by C. W. Fletcher.

SEEK $85,000 FOR ERECTION OF NEW SCHOOL

Council Opposes Bill For Appointment of Juvenile Judge

$3000 TO CLEAN SNOW

Resolution of Alderman Summers Would Have All Warrants Made Out by Civil and Police Justice

A resolution appropriating $85,000 or as much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of erecting a new public school building, was presented at an adjourned meeting of the city council last night and referred to the joint committee on finance and schools. It is set forth in the resolution that council realizes the necessity of additional school facilities, having previously instructed the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications, and that the plans are now prepared.

A resolution offered by Councilman Ticer and adopted, directs that State Senator Walter T. Oliver and State Delegate Charles Henry Smith be requested to protest against the enactment of the bill as far as Alexandria is concerned, providing for the appointment of special justices of the peace in cities and counties of less than 25,000 population to be known as judges of juvenile and domestic relations courts, and that a committee composed of the presidents of both branches of city council be designated to appear before the committee of courts and justice in Richmond, and enter a personal protest to prevent the passage of the bill so far as Alexandria is concerned, and to have Alexandria exempted from its provisions. On motion of Councilman Lawler the mayor was added to the committee.

After considerable debate a resolution of Councilman Ticer appropriating $3,000 for removal of snow from the streets, was adopted. City Engineer Dunn told council that up to date he had spent between $2,200 and $2,300, and he estimated that to complete ten more squares on King street, it would require $1,000 more. He gave his views regarding further necessary work, and said he estimated that between $300 and $500 of the money already expended would be paid by the Washington-Virginia Railway Company as its part of cleaning the tracks Sunday.

There was a general interchange of opinion among the members regarding further work of snow removal an finally the entire matter was left in the hands of the city engineer to use his own judgment in the further expenditure of the funds for this pur-

HEARING ON THE TURNPIKE ROAD

Delegation of Five At Hearing in Richmond Today—Expect Opinion From Attorney General of State

A committee from the chamber of commerce and Fairfax county today is in Richmond before the state highway commission in the interest of the construction of the road known as the Little River Turnpike, between Alexandria and Fairfax Counthouse, a distance of fourteen miles. This committee is composed of Julian Y. Williams Mayor J. M. Duncan, Carroll Pierce, this city, and Thomas R. Keith and Wilson Farr, of Fairfax.

It is stated that the attorney general of the state will appear at this meeting. The point at issue just now is whether or not the state highway commission has a right to enter into a contract with Fairfax county to refund money put up for the work within a period of five years. The legality of this question has been under consideration for some time past and this it is stated, is the obstacle that blocks proceeding with the work just now.

Bible Thought for Today

Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?—Isaiah 58:7.

IN CONGRESS
YESTERDAY

House

Met at 1 p. m., and adjourned at 5:07 p. m., until noon today.

Considered calendar Wednesday business.

Representative Mapes (Republican), Michigan, a member of the commerce committee, to whom Speaker Gillett recently referred to the report of the international joint commission on the Great Lakes St. Lawrence waterway, introduced a bill proposing that Congress accept the report.

Mr. Mape's bill provided for adoption by Congress of the recommendations set forth in the report, subject to further diplomatic negotiations between the United States and Canada and such other legislative action as would be necessary by the Canadian parliament and the American Congress.

Representative John Philip Hill, of Maryland, leader of the "wet" forces in the House, before the ways and means committee urged payment of the soldier bonus by a tax on beer and light wines.

Representative Brennan (Republican), Michigan, also urged legislation that would legalize the sale of beer and light wines, declaring that a beer tax of 20 cents a gallon would yield sufficient revenue to pay the soldier bonus in four years.

The District committee at its regular meeting received a recommendation from Paul E. Johnson, a local attorney, that steps be taken to make a memorial park out of the site of the ill-fated Knickerbocker Theatre.

Passed and sent to the Senate a bill increasing from $12 to $20 a month pensions of widows and dependent children of men who served in the army or navy during the war with Spain, the Philippine insurrection or the China relief expedition.

Senate

Senate was not in session; will meet today at noon.

In executive session the finance committee again listened to experts discuss various tariff valuation plans, but reached no conclusions.

President Edgerton, of the National Association of Manufacturers, submitted the resolutions adopted by the convention held here this week urging enactment of the American valuation plan as contained in the House bill.

Before the interstate commerce committee William G. McAdoo, former director general of railroads, declared that measures taken during Federal control "call for no apologies" and submitted statements by seven" of the ablest railroad men in the United States" in support of his declaration.

House bill proposing monthly payments of pensions instead of quarterly as at present, was ordered favorably reported by the pensions committee.

After a visit to the White House Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, suggested that Arthur G. Froe, a negro attorney of Welch, W. Va., would be made recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia.

The committee investigating charges that American soldiers in France had been hanged without trial heard nearly a dozen witnesses yesterday, but most of the testimony either was a repetition of previous statements or had no direct bearing on the inquiry.

The District committee decided to postpone its investigation of the Knickerbocker Theater disaster pending the conclusion of inquiries now under way by various local authorities.

VIRGINIA NEWS
PARAGRAPHED

Strasburg—A plan has been worked out with the dental department of the state board of health for placing an itinerant dentist in this county. This work will be under the direction of the Shenandoah Chapter of the Red Cross, the Shenandoah county school board and the state board of health, and will be supported by these various bodies and by fees charged for treatment. The dentist will go to the most remote schools first and work up to the various towns. The fee for treatment will average about 50 cents per child, as the state board of health will pay one third of cost and the Red Cross chapter of the county will pay the other third, thus making the sum a very nominal one for the individual. The dentist expects to start work by February 1.

Norfolk—With twenty-five passengers aboard, the Ward Line passenger steamer Morro Castle, due in New York last Saturday, arrived at Cape Henry Monday morning with her bunkers empty. Three hundred bags of sugar were fed to the furnaces of the big liner to enable her to reach port. Captain Blackadder said today that the storm was the worst in his experience. It struck the Morro Castle the first day out of Nassau, and when the ship reached the vicinity of Cape Hatteras the wind and sea were so high that headway could not be made against them. The last fifty tons of coal were reserved to bring the ship into Norfolk when the storm subsided, and the sugar was used to keep steam up while she was hove to.

Danville—More United States mail was lost in the Southern Railway station fire than was at first believed and it is thought that a dozen pouches of first class mail was destroyed. Some of these pouches contained mail from the south going north.

Danville—The city council finance committee has asked Delegate Joseph B. Anderson to introduce a bill in the general assembly, permitting Virginia municipalities to carry group insurance on city employees where they see fit to do so. The committee has been in correspondence with a company which makes a practice of this insurance and it is estimated that it would cost the city about $16 per $1,000. The council is also discussing informally just at present another charter change, one which will enable the city, if it saw fit, to carry its own fire insurance. The total premium value carried by the city is about $5,000 per annum.

Charlottesville—The members of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, who lost their chapter house at the University of Virginia in a fire of unknown origin during the Christmas holidays, have decided to rebuild on the same location. The loss was partially covered by insurance. Several replacement estimates have already been made by local firms. Plans for the new house, which will cost over $30,000, will be practically the same as the former one. It is uncertain yet whether the damage done by the fire to the walls will permit their being used or not. The work of construction is expected to begin early in February.

Richmond—Secretary Bane, of the state board of charities and corrections, spoke preceding the program of "Tableaux Vivants" at the Woman's Club Monday. He presented the proposition of the purchase of a city farm by the city of Richmond. "Cities spent $264,000 last year alone to feed and clothe the prisoners in the city jails of Virginia," said Mr Bane, "all of which is a total loss to each municipality. The plan proposed is a purchase of an industrial farm where each prisoner will work out his time." He quoted statistics which showed a marked decrease in the jail population of Lynchburg, where the stated plan had been put into effect

Newport News—Mayor P. W. Hiden, W. S. Copeland and J. N. Shannahan, will leave Friday for Washington, where they will confer with Virginia senators and representatives relative to the Leviathan repair job. The committee was named at a mass meeting of citizens Saturday afternoon, and will urge that the Leviathan contract be awarded on a strictly busines basis, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company having underbid the world almost $2,000,000 on the work.

Strasburg—James H. C. Snellen of this place, has had a small fortune laying around and was not aware of it as such: it consists of a 20-cent piece coined in the year 1875, which is in perfect condition, there having been only three of such pieces coined in that year makes them very valuable. Mr. Snellen says that he has had the coin for years, not supposing that it was worth more than its face value. Mr. Snellen says that he has quite a number of rare coins, all in perfect condition.

Staunton—John Pershing Shover, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shover, tenants on the farm of W. W. Sproul, near Middlebrook, was in a critical condition at the King's Daughter's Hospital Sunday night, as the result of burns received Friday morning when his night clothes caught fire from an overheated stove. Hope was expressed by those attending the little boy that his life might be saved.

THEATRE WRECK IS BLAMED ON ENGINEERING

Senator Capper Also Alleges Faulty Construction as Part Cause

BLAMES OFFICIALS

Inquest Into Knickerbocker Disaster Will Begin Tuesday—Condolences Are Still Pouring In

Washington, Feb. 2.—"I believe that the Knickerbocker Theatre catastrophe was due to a bad job of engineering and cheap, faulty construction, and those who had to do with the work and its inspection should, generally speaking, share the responsibility. It's premature to say exactly upon whom this responsibility should be placed."

Senator Capper, of Kansas, a member of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia, made this statement yesterday after he, Senators Weller, Jones, Gooding and Sheppard, of the committee, visited the ruins in a body and talked with Government engineers there.

The Senate committee met later. It decided unanimously that there should be a Congressional investigation, but that it would be unwise to begin it immediately. The committee feels that it would be better to wait a few days and determine how adequate the other investigations under way may be. If they are deemed sufficient the committee expects to be called together with a view to recommending such legislation as may be necessary to prevent a recurrence of such a disaster by redrafting the building code for the District and by taking such other steps as may be necessary in the light of the information developed at the different inquiries.

In his statement, Senator Capper, who introduced the Senate resolution of inquiry, said:

"A superficial examination of the walls and conversation had with those on the ground who are competent to express an intelligent opinion on the cause of the disaster has caused me to arrive at the conclusion that the roof truss system was dependent upon a central truss which rested at one end of a steel I beam lintel on the north wall, making a sharp angle with the lintel. Other parts of the truss system attached to this central truss were placed on bearings in the east wall.

"Government engineers on the ground told me that none of the bearings of truss or beams upon the walls were anchored or fastened to the walls, which, in my judgment, was a fundamental error in such construction, because any unusual disturbing cause might gradually slip the beams from their support.

"From the hypothetical construction, as explained to me, it would appear that any unusual load on the roof system would tend to draw from its support the main truss, which, as I have said before, rested upon an 'I' beam lintel at an acute angle and was not fastened to it. The result of the bending was to cause the truss to slip off from the lintel and the whole roof system rested upon and was dependent upon this one point of support, the truss would not have slipped off the supporting linel and the catastrophe would have been avoided."

District Attorney Gordon conferred with five army and navy engineers over building details, the original plans and building regulations, the contractors' plans, whether the construction was properly done, whether the materials used were those called for under the plans, whether the building was properly put up, the effect of snow weight and other problems. He had nothing to say regarding the views expressed.

Coroner Nevitt is busy arranging for the inquest to be held Tuesday. The funerals of many of the victims, including Louis W. Strayer and C. C. Brainard, Washington newspaper correspondents, and Colonel and Mrs. C. C. Tucker were held today.

Coincident with Senator Capper's statement the American Association of Engineers, through its offices here, issued a statement in which it declared the disaster, "was evidently due to either faulty design or construction which would not have existed had licensed engineers or architects supervised the work." The association has a committee investigating the collapse.

Three more messages of condolence from diplomatic representatives of foreign governments in Washington on the tragedy were received yesterday by Secretary Hughes. Expressions of sympathy came from Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation to the Washington Conference: Minister de Cesvedes, of Cuba, and Minister Sze, of China.

Danville—The city council has authorized an amendment to the city charter which would permit the council to increase the tax levy from $1.75 per $100 valuation to $2.25.

WILSON FOUNDATION

There will be a meeting tonight in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at eight o'clock, in the interests of the Wilson Foundation. We know of no more apposite or enduring monument to one of the greatest of American presidents, and feel confident that Alexandria will contribute her share in the praiseworthy work. The Gazette endorses the project emphatically and without qualification.

GROUND HOG DAY

Today is Ground Hog Day, here, there, and everywhere. The little, furry barometer awoke this morning, took an observation, scurried back to his hole and settled for another sleep. If he had seen his shadow the Gazette would have told another story; but as it is, we believe the backbone of winter is broken, and fair skies and breezes will be the program for the next six weeks. One of Alexandria's most venerated old ladies, the proud grandmother of several of our successful young merchants, announced this morning at the breakfast table, that she had watched this day for years past, three score and ten, and never knew the signs to fail. This is indeed test enough to prove any theory. Wherefore our prediction and unwavering confidence.

SHAKESPEARE COURSE

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. have indeed prepared a treat for the lovers of Shakespeare in Alexandria. Ward McAllister once partitioned off four hundred of the swallow-tailed idlers of Gotham as distinct from the sans culotte of that day, and the only bunch really worth while. The main, perhaps the only, requisite needed to qualify for this self-haloed museum of snobs, was money. Perhaps as many as four of the four hundred went back as far as three generations to a lettered ancestry; the remainder still smacked of the muck of toil.

We think a much fairer basis of classification of society could be predicated on a love of Shakespeare. In this connection, too, we believe there are four hundred lovers of Shakespeare right here in Alexandria. This in itself is a patent of intellectual nobility. Mr. David Jones has been a lifelong student of the greatest of dramatists, and the Ladies' Auxiliary is fortunate in prevailing upon him to take charge of the classes in Shakespeare this winter. The topics are comprehensive and we challenge anyone to attend these classes and remain ignorant of the merits of the bard. Really, an acquaintance with the works of Shakespeare is equivalent to a liberal education. The course is open to both men and women, and will be held in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock beginning with tomorrow, third instant. We trust our whole Four Hundred will attend. Mr. Wallace, of the Y. M. C. A., or Mrs. Harry B. Caton, will gladly, we feel sure, supply all needed information.

Symphony Concert

(Gazette's Staff Reporter)

The concert given by the Symphony Orchestra in Washington last night comprised one of the most delightful programs of the season.

The Frenchman who conducts the orchestra sure slings a wicked stick. When any of his men go to sleep on the job he jumps at him with both feet and both hands and wakes him up. We noticed the fiddlers more than once, apparently nodding over their work. We felt sorry for them, as they had probably played at a dance the night before and were tired out. Anyway, sometimes you could hardly hear them. The toot ongsomble was rich and juicy, except now and then when the brasses failed to put on the brakes. The wood wind was also a little ragged on the edges, but came in strong when the strings needed help. There was a yard-wide breadth in the phrasing for which this orchestra is notorious. The tone color was superb except the tendency to put too much yellow in it.

The Tschaikowsky Symphony in F minor is a well-known concert number here in Alexandria, and the orchestra's attack was fast and furious. The organ effects and the delicate breath-work allotted to the clarionets in the Andante were brought out with a harmonic insistence that fetched tears to the eyes of audience and performers alike. The lovely tidbits for the violas and cellos were properly accentuated with the right degree of scrupulosity in the tender little Andantino. The Pizzicato of the third movement was carefully phrased and played with the right pep. The tenor drum, however, played F sharp twice when it should have been B flat, but this was unnoticed except by the sensitive ears of experts. In the big finale everything went off smoothly. The bass-drummer used his left foot once in working his instrument when he should have used his right. He lost half a beat in consequence but caught up again in the fifteenth bar.

The "Carnival in Paris" is one of these new tone paintings essayed by modern composers. It is a medley and a mixture of the sounds of a street paved with Belgian blocks; you hear a dog-fight in the distance; a feline solution of the eternal triangle on a back-fence; the strident cries of street vendors, given by the G strings of the bass-viols; shrill dialogues of the mesdames of the wash-tub; boys at play and boys at fight; and through it all the over-tones of a great city. M. Monteaux, the conductor was in his element. He was evidently at home in this carnival of his native Paree. He danced, he jumped, he fought, he threatened, he plead, he cajoled, he gesticulated, as only a Frenchman can. He got his effects by shading the tone and by grouping his instruments. His foot-work in this last method was beautiful. He fairly sizzled with energy. One group played in two-four time; another in three-four; while a third group accentuated the insouciance of the piece by playing in both tempos.

M. Monteaux accomplished this unusual feat gracefully and effectively. In fact it is said, he can conduct in five different tempos simultaneously by the use of hands, feet, and head.

The Debussy Nocturnes were haunting, as usual, in their fantastic melody. They were fairly bizarre in their reminiscence of hootch-singing on a lonely road at midnight. They were rendered with that sympathetic technique and comprehensive grasp that has made this orchestra famous.

On the whole, the concert was one of the season's best performances, and it is to be hoped they will come again and do it some more.

NEW MUSCLE SHOAL BID

Engstrom Amends First Proposal—Will Make Nitrates for Fertilizer

Would Allow Government To Retain Control of Property—Pledges Completion of Plant

Washington, Feb. 1.—On the eve of delivery to Congress by Secretary Weeks of Henry Ford's offer for the government properties at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, Frederick E. Engstrum, of Wilmington, N. C., presented the War Secretary with an amended proposal to complete, lease and operate the Muscle Shoals properties for the manufacture of nitrates for fertilizers.

The amended proposal was accompanied by a letter signed by former Senator Marion Butler, acting legal adviser for Mr. Engstrum, which recited the outstanding features of the proposal as follows:

A guarantee cost to complete.

Government retains ownership and preserves assets of $141,000,000.

Returns from the investment on a basis of 400,000 kilowatt gross development, this lease will pay to the Government, a letter says, $3,504,000 per year for 50 years, or a total at compound 4 per cent. interest of approximately $537,000,000; this cash will be used to produce creap nitrates for fertilizers or can be turned into the Treasury, at the option of the Government.

Success of nitrate manufacture which can be economically used for fertilizer is dependent entirely on sale of power. Without the support of the power development and sale of excess power to finance the nitrate plants it would not be possible to continue the manufacture and sale of nitrates.

The power end of the industry is solely developed for the benefit of the factory. The separation of the factory from the power destroys the unity of the industry.

This lease proposes to devote the entire power development to the manufacture of nitrates, including the development of improved methods for the reduction of cost of producing nitrates.

The quantity of nitrates annually produced is limited only by the amount of excess power sold and the selling price of nitrates fixed by the Government.

The method proposed to finance, by the sale of excess power, the manufacture of nitrates as the only possible method by which nitrates can be produced under present known methods and sold to the American farmers at a price less than the Chilean product.

"We will be glad," the letter concluded, "to consider any changes or amendments which you may suggest with a view to accepting the same if we can see our way clear so to do."

Women of Other Lands

An illiterate woman is practically unknown in Siam.

Children in Samoa are taught, by their mothers, to swim before they are three years old.

The very poorest women of Madagascar are able to wear silk, as it is cheaper than any other cloth.

The first Moro girls ever graduated as nurses received their diplomas in 1918 at the Philippine general hospital.

Japanese girls are said to be the world's most proficient pearl divers. They begin to learn their trade at about thirteen years of age.

In Persia laughter on the part of men is considered effeminate, but there is no restriction on feminine merriment.

Women in the harems of the Bagdad sheiks are occasionally permitted to view American motion pictures, but the films are carefully censored to eliminate all love scenes.

In Italy nearly every woman above the class of "labor" smokes endless cigarettes. They use long mouthpieces made of tortoise shell or amber with a band of gold, rubies or diamonds. These holders cost from $10 to $100 each.

All sports formerly restricted to men will be indulged in at the Olympic games for women to be held in Monte Carlo, March 24 to 31. There will be basketball, football, running, jumping, hurdling, javelin throwing, swimming and weight throwing. Women representing England, France, Italy, Scandinavia and Switzerland will contest in the game.

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Mrs. M. L. Horner Advocates Development of the Will-to-do

Says That City Needs Most of All a and of Civic Responsibility

Mrs. Margaret Lee Horner, chairman of the committee of uniform laws concerning women of the Virginia State League of Women Voters, states that she heartily approves of all the improvements that are to be held before the eyes of the public by the Gazette and that she thinks that the main thing all need at the present time is the real wish for a bigger and better city.

"The promoters of the Greater Alexandria campaign," she says, "have certainly mapped out a wonderful prospectus. Of course, each of us has our own pet scheme for the improvement of our city. Some of us think that one of our greatest needs is to have once more a probation officer; some a police-woman, while still others think that a curfew law that will take little children from the streets and see them safe at home and perhaps abed at a reasonable hour, would be of inestimable value.

"But I am sure that one and all of us would be unutterably pleased and proud to see the desired improvements daily enumerated in the Gazette, an accomplished fact. So it seems that the most important thing for each of us, and the one fundamental necessity for procuring them is to find out just how we can get them. And here is what it seems to me to be—to really want them badly enough.

"The Gazette daily presents to us the vision—a greater Alexandria, with improved paving, a great White Way, a modern Y. M. C. A. Building, a new public School, more Playgrounds, 500 homes or apartments, etc. Any one of them would make for a greater Alexandria, and we can have any and all of them if we only want them badly enough. That we haven't them only means that we are satisfied not to have them. Whenever any criticism of our city is made, any uncomplimentary remarks about conditions here, the answer is so often, and it seems to me with so much truth, 'Well, the people here are satisfied.'

"What we need most of all is a spirit of good citizenship—the essentials of which are a spirit of civic responsibility and the spirit of co-operation. each and every one of us is responsible and it will require the cooperative effort of all to remedy them. If we really want a great Alexandria, let us want it badly enough to work for it; to wait for it, always believing that what we earnestly desire we can have. No good thing, nothing worth having can be had, nor being had can be appreciated unless we have worked and sacrificed to get it.

"Alexandria as it is, or as it will be, can never be other than the outward and visible sign of the inward and spiritual life of her citizens. Let us awaken the ardor of good citizenship. Let us each and every one realize that Alexandria's fair name and fair fame is the personal responsibility of her individual citizens and let us all work together for the realization of the vision of a Better, Fairer, Greater Alexandria.'

They tell us that the old Ground Hog made his appearance today shortly before noon but immediately, upon seeing his shadow, he again fled to his den where it is said he will continue his winter sleep for six more weeks as per his usual custom. Our informant, an elderly gentleman, said that he had never yet seen a Ground Hog Day when the sun did not shine, at least a little while. Whether or not there is anything in the sign, he says that he has enough coal in his cellar to last him through out the "spell."

Mrs. M. L. Horner left today for Richmond, where she will attend a meeting of the committee of uniform laws concerning women, of the Virginia State League of Women Voters, of which committee she is the chairman.

Russell Mitchell Post, V. F. W., will meet tonight in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in connection with the committee on arrangements for the Put and Take Bazaar. All members are asked to be present as matters of much importance are to be discussed.

LIBERALITY

The Mayor of New York, in pursuance of a resolution of the Common Council, has forwarded Three Thousand Dollars out of the Treasury of that city, for the relief of their distressed countrymen on the Niagara frontier. This instance of liberal charity accords with the character which the city of New York has uniformly sustained; and we hope will be emulated by the wealthy cities of other parts of of the Union.

The bill to encourage enlistments by encreased bounties, has passed both Houses of Congress, and will no doubt become a law.

The bill to prohibit the delivery of libelled goods to the persons claiming to own them, has passed the House, and is before the Senate.

The bill to prohibit the ransom of vessels taken by the enemy, has passed to a third reading in the House, and will no doubt pass that body.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of Mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Virginia Historical Pageant Association

Thomas Wood Stevens, writer and director of the St. Louis Pageant of 1916, and author of some thirty other Pageants, has been selected as Writer and Director of the forthcoming Virginia Historical Pageant. Mr. Stevens is widely known throughout the world as an authority on pageantry, and we feel we have been most fortunate in securing his services. Mr. Stevens will arrive in Richmond early in February, when he will assume his duties as Director of the Pageant to be given in Richmond the week of May 22-28th. This is an All Virginia Movement, and is as much your pageant as ours. See that your section has the proper representation.

The period parades, which will be given daily during "March of Progess Week" are a wonderful medium of advertising the present and past glories of your county. We have placed no restrictions on the cost of these floats, but they must be of a purely historical character except on the last two days of the week when commercial floats will be allowed. These floats can be built in Richmond, and an estimate furnished together with design as soon as you have made your choice or a subect.

The Old Virginia Tournament to be given "World War Day," Thursday, May 25th, is creating great interest throughout the State. It will be a championship affair, open only to Virginia horsemen. The prizes will aggregate $750. Every rider must be in costume, representing some period in history, Knights will tilt with nine foot lances, balanced four feet from the point, with steel points permitted. Distance will be 100 yards, with three arches, and the horses will be required to negotiate the distance in six seconds flat. To the winner will go the honor of crowning the Queen of "Love and Beauty" at the grand ball to be given Thursday night.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

Richmond—Sergeant J. T. Ackerley, who has charge of a road camp in Orange county, and who faces dismissal as the result of a decision of the state board of charities and corrections, is alleged to be the victim of a "frame up" on the part of the convicts. The testimony of two convicts, at the rehearing of the case in the courtroom of the Virginia supreme court of appeals Wednesday, brought out the fact that a 'fame up' took place. Statements of the witnesses was that the men had become dissatisfied with outdoor work and wanted to return to the Virginia state penitentiary. They stated that the men believed that if charges of mistreatment of prisoners against Ackerley could be pressed the camp would be broken up and they would be brought to Richmond.

Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under its purifying influence, the complexion becomes fresh and beautiful, the cheeks rosy instead of pale, the lips red instead of colorless, the eyes bright instead of dull. The whole system is toned and invigorated, and those who are under-weight begin to get some firm, "stay-there" flesh. So rapid and amazing are the results that success is absolutely guaranteed. Be sure to remember the name—Mastin's VI-TA-MON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet. There is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON Tablets at all good druggists.

Camp Humphreys News

A son, Garrett Moses, was born to Major and Mrs. Raymond G. Moses, on Sunday, January 22nd., at Walter Reed Hospital.

It was reported here that the Major Moses injured in the Knickerbocker crash was our Major Moses, but this was an error. Maj. Moses was visiting Mrs. Moses at the hospital at the time.

The storm which began Friday evening, January 20th., completely tied up activities here. No roads have been open between here and Alexandria for four days. All men in camp that could be spared from the regular routine have been employed in opening roads, both in camp and on the main road to Alexandria.

Mail has reached camp over the railroad since the auto road has been closed, although no mail was received for thirty-six hours.

The Liberty Theater was dark Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings, owing to inability to communicate with Washington for picture films.

No religious services were held at the Camp Chapel on Sunday.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have postponed their play one week from Jan. 30th to Feb. 6th.

Warrant Officer John A. Hilliard has been ordered to Walter Reed Hospital for treatment. He will go about Feb. 3rd.

Bungalows Nos. 22, 23, and 24 have been assigned as quarters for Warrant Officers and soon as they are fully completed will be occupied by John A.Warrant Officer Richard W. Treichel, John A. Hillard and Hogge, Mr. Hogge, in fact, is already occupying No. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Campbell are living in Bungalow No. 25, having moved from H. 43. Their old quarters will be occupied by First sergeant Harry Scholenburg, who is bringing his family from Camp Meade as soon as the condition of the roads will permit.

Mrs. C. C. Gans, who has been ill at her home near the station hospital is convalescent. Capt Gauns expects to return to duty soon, after an illness of about two weeks.

Attractions playing, week ending Feb. 11, 1922:

FEBRUARY

The amethyst, which is said to prevent violent passions, is the February birthstone.

February, the second month in the modern calendar, was not in the Romulian year. In the reign of Numa two months were added, January at the beginning, and February at the end. This arrangement continued to B. C. 452, when it was assigned its present position in the calendar.

The ancient name of Februarius was derived from februare, to purify, or from Februa, the Roman festival of general expiation and lustration, which was celebrated during the latter part of the month.

The Anglo-Saxons called the month Sprout-Kale, from the sprouting of the cabbage at this period. Later it was known as Solmonath because of the return of the sun to the low latitudes.

Lincoln's birthday, the 12th, and Washington's birthday, the 22nd, are observed in the United States as national holidays. Candlemas, the 2nd, and Valentine day, the 14th, are also generally observed.

February is the only month the number of days of which are affected by the bissextile or leap year. In ordinary years it has 28 days but each leap year the addition of the intercalary day makes the days of this month 29.

Any year which is divided by four without a fractional remainder is a leap year.

Massachusetts ratified the Constitution on Feb. 6, 1788. Ohio, on the 10th, 1803; Oregon, on the 14th, 1859, and Arizona on the 14th, 1912, were admitted to the Union in February.

Presidents George Washington, on the 22nd, 1732; William Henry Harrison, on the 9th, 1773; Abraham Lincoln, on the 12th, 1809, were born in February. President John Quincy Adams died on Feb. 28, 1842.

The festival of the Mardi Gras, in Louisiana and Alabama, celebrated with lavish splendor, particularly in New Orleans, Mobile and other of the cities of those states, has its beginning in February. The festival closes with the advent of Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent.

pose now at its his disposal. Participating in the discussion were Councilmen Baggett, Ticer, Lawler and President Burke.

A resolution that the commissioners of the sinking fund transfer $6,000, the balance on hand, to be used in the general repairing and painting of the market building and that the committee on public property and finance consider all suggestions of the city engineer on this work and report to city council was referred to the public property and finance committee.

In the board of aldermen Alder-

C. J. W. Summers introduced a resolution that the legislature be requested to amend the civil and police justice bill so that all warrants in civil cases hereafter would be issued exclusively by the civil and police justice or his substitute and the measure was adopted by that board. Common council, however, nonconcurred in their action, and the aldermen refused to recede from their former position.

Alderman Wilkins appeared and explained that the proposed change would result in all warrants being issued exclusively by the civil and police justice instead of being issued as now by four different majistrates and that the cost of sand would go to the city which would be about $3,000 a year.

Capt. Lawrence E. Gardner of Alexandria Machine Gun Company, appeared before council and explained that a bazaar was advertised to be held next week at the armory and his consent had not be obtained for the armory, and that next Tuesday night the federal inspection would be made and that he also has a number of basketball games scheduled up for the coming week. Capt. Gardner explained he would be only too glad to give over the armory the latter part of the month. J. E. Clegg of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, also made a statement relative to the matter. It was left in the hands of the captain and those interested together with the public property committee, council refusing to get into the affair.

H. C. Callender, of the Remschel Motor Company, was given the floor and he urged council the necessity for the purchase of a Ford tractor, and told of what aid it would be in removing the snow and also of the various other uses it could be put to. Mr. Callender stated that a public demonstration would be given today for the benefit of the councilmen.

The United States Life Tables

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—The Department of Commerce, through the Bureau of the Census, announces that the second official publication on life tables, derived from births, deaths and populations in this country is soon to be issued. These tables show conditions as they existed in 1890, in 1901, and in 1910, thus making it possible to study the changes which have taken place in mortality during two decades.

Mortality Varies With the Class

It is shown that mortality at practically all ages is higher among men than among women. In particular it appears that the most favorable mortality in this country is found among women living in the rural districts. The rural classes, regardless of sex, enojy a much lower mortality for nearly the entire range of life than those living in the cities. While the expectation of life, both among men and women in most classes has steadily increased, there is no indication of any definite lengthening of the span of life. In other words, while almost all classes of persons are living to an older average age, the limiting age of human life does not seem to have advanced.

Change in Two Decades

In 1901 the expectation of life among white females at birth was about three years more than among white males, and in 1910 the excess in favor of the females had increased to almost three and one half years. There seems to have ben a general improvement for all classes for the ages up to about age 40 for men and age 50 for women, except for the negro population. Above these ages no improvement is shown, and in some cases the mortality at the older ages in 1910 was actually less favorable than it was in 1901.

Infant Mortality

An examination of the infant mortality tables indicates a decided improvement in the infant mortality rate in most classes of the population The infant mortality in the rural districts was considerably lower than that in the urban districts both in 1901 and 1910, but the difference in favor of the rural districts was not as great in 1910 as it was in 1901, indicating that the efforts to improve infant mortality conditions in our cities are undoubtedly meeting with success.

Comparison With Foreign Countries

Life tables are also given by sex for Australia, Denmark, England, France, Germany, Holland, India, Japan Italy, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland. They may be used to compare the risks of mortality and expectations of life at any age in one country with those of any other country or with those in the United States. A comparison with these countries shows that except for France, India and Japan, the rates of mortality among men and women are less favorable in this country than in the foreign countries above mentioned. For example, the lowest annual rate of mortality per thousand at birth is found in Norway to be about 81 for males and 67 for females, while for a similar class in this country, namely white people, it is about 127 for males and 105 for females. This indicates that there is still much room for improvement in this country.

The most important mortality tables used by life insurance companies in this country and in foreign countries are included in this publication.

Life Annuity And Monetary Tables.

Tables of life annuities and other monetary tables at various rates of interest, based on life tables for this country, were computed for the purposes they serve in legal and business practice. The values of life annuities are frequently required in the settlemnt of estates, the division of wills, the determination of the measure of damages, and in connection with pension funds. Until the appearance of the United States Life Tables there were available practically no reliable life tables faithfully representing mortality conditions as they now exist in the general population of this country.

Construction of Life Tables

The mathematical theory of the construction of life tables is developed in great detail and is illustrated by photographs of the actual numerical calculations made on adding machines in the construction of the life table for males in the State of New York, 1910. This portion of the text will be of great service to all those who desire to acquaint themselves with the theory of life table construction as well as with the actual mathematical processes.

All the original statistics on births, deaths and populations used in the contruction of the life tables are given in this publication. An extensive index of 20 pages has been prepared to enable the reader to locate quickly information to be found in the text and tables.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep night and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER. 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

Shoes That Add to Your Vitality

Shoes that bind and distort the feet are a source of constant irritation. They drain your nervous energy, distract your attention and lessen your ability to concentrate and to work. Such shoes are a drawback to health and success. If you would enjoy the best that life has to offer of buoyant strength and achievement, change to the comfortable, helpful Cantilever Shoe.

It is well built on a last that conforms to the contour of the foot. With the natural inner sole line, the toes point straight ahead and are comfortable; a share of the weight of the body falls easily on the ball of the foot.

The well-set heel encourages good posture, which in turn encourages good health.

The shank of a Cantilever Shoe is drawn up, by lacing the shoe to fit the instep and provide restful support. And it FLEXES WITH THE FOOT. It does not bind the muscles and impede circulation as a rigid sole does. It strengthens the muscles by allowing them freedom to exercise, thus preventing or correcting weak arches.
